THE CHALLENGE

Princeton Property Management faced significant challenges with their previous software. Integration capabilities were subpar and there was an overall lack of comprehensive customer support.

THE SOLUTION

After a thorough evaluation of the market, Princeton turned to Yardi. The decision was driven by Yardi’s robust range of products and exceptional customer service.

Real client, real results

Princeton Property Management is a third-party property management company with a proud history spanning 40 years. As the largest woman-owned property management organization in Oregon, Princeton manages approximately 9,000 units across 160 properties. Lack of support from their previous provider led Princeton to seek a more reliable partnership with Yardi. The implementation process was seamless and they consistently received the support they needed, resulting in a renewed sense of operational efficiency throughout their organization.

“Yardi’s open API was a big deal for us because we needed seamless integration with our existing systems, especially our state-specific forms program.”
