Simplify leasing

It’s no secret that paper leases are error-prone and time-consuming to create. You run the risk of recording incorrect data, losing documents and creating confusion through the move-in process and beyond.

Integrated CRM software eliminates those risks. With everything digitized in one place, generating leases and initiating move-ins becomes seamless. Sales counselors can craft custom documents at the click of a button, storing every detail in a secure format and closing the window for errors.

Nurture leads effectively

Tired of lost prospects and missed opportunities? Tracking leads manually is a recipe for just that. Without a configurable, intuitive platform for managing leads from the get-go, sales counselors aren’t set up for success.

With CRM technology, you unlock a lead staging workflow that keeps the sales cycle on track. From activity monitoring to lead scoring, a dynamic solution offers features that enable more organized, responsive actions from your sales team.

Boost customer service

Providing excellent service throughout the prospect-to-resident journey is crucial. Unfortunately, offering great service gets difficult when sales counselors are responsible for monitoring all incoming calls and tracking follow-ups manually.

CRM software brings the benefit of call automation, meaning your community can provide around the clock service without draining staff members. No leads slip through the cracks and prospective residents get the prompt service they deserve.

The Yardi difference

RentCafe Senior CRM integrates with RentCafe Connect (flexible call center solution) to ensure no prospect call goes unanswered. Ready to foster better connections and boost service? It starts here with timely, automated support.

✓ Combine digital answering services with optional on-demand live support
✓ Prioritize the calls most likely to convert using powerful analytics to maximize your ROI
✓ Add RentCafe Conversations (enhanced service) to access bulk texting, email tracking and automated text follow-ups

“Our communities now get to hear calls that they didn’t get to hear — they come directly to their dashboard and it becomes a part of their day.”

Streamline assessments

To avoid duplicating data come assessment time, and to give residents the best service down the line, caregivers need access to information collected by sales. On the reverse, sales counselors need assessment results to generate move-in proposals. But creating an efficient thread of communication is difficult without proper technology in place.

An advanced CRM system allows real-time data to flow between sales staff, community managers and caregivers. You eliminate the burden of disconnected data, helping assessments run smoothly and enabling team members to make informed decisions.

The Yardi difference

Integrated with Yardi EHR (dynamic electronic health record solution), RentCafe Senior CRM centralizes the data your staff needs, streamlining assessments and improving move-in workflows as a result.

- Empower sales and care staff to work together on a single platform
- Inform decisions at the point of care to improve resident retention
- Establish care levels and billing recommendations to guide move-in proposals

When using mobile CRM, companies reported boosting productivity by 50% and increasing efficiency by 73%.

Ensure compliance

With paper files or data stored in separate systems, meeting compliance needs gets tricky, and audits stay stressful. Whether you’re checking the accuracy of service charges or staffing ratios, siloed data makes details hard to find, leaves room for error and leads to hours spent amending issues.

By operating with integrated CRM technology, you’re equipped to meet compliance needs at all times. Having everything accessible on one platform helps your communities stay accountable — making audits less of an obstacle.

The Yardi difference

Since RentCafe Senior CRM and Yardi EHR work in harmony, you can quickly pull key data like care level determination anytime. Digitized, centralized workflows mean mistakes are being caught in real time and when audits come around, you aren’t scrambling to find what you need.

✔ House all resident care data in one secure place
✔ Avoid the costs of non-compliance with digital workflows that prevent errors
✔ Enhance the resident experience by holding your communities to the highest standard

“If I have an auditor who’s looking back at everything, RentCafe Senior CRM makes it easier. I don’t have to go back to the community and ask them for documentation. If we’re looking for information, it is right there in one location. There is no guesswork in terms of where it is or who filed it.”
