YARDI SENIOR LIVING SUITE

Power your business with a single connected solution

Create a foundation for success with an integrated senior living management solution. Unify senior housing operations, grow your occupancy and deliver quality care — all from one platform.

Technology is more important than ever.

Given the latest challenges in senior living, providers need technology solutions to meet the needs of residents, families and staff. The adoption of tech-enabled tools is accelerating like never before.

60% of providers surveyed said that mobile communications improved care and safety for their staff members and residents during the pandemic.

66% said their communities experienced a rapid growth of telehealth.

89% said they saw rapid growth in the use of videoconferencing.[1]

17% of providers surveyed reported they increased technology spending in 2020 by 50% or more.

36% increased technology spending by 25% to 50%

87% expected their organizations to increase their technology budget in 2021.[2]

Stay ahead of the curve with a single connected solution.

Not every software solution is efficient. To satisfy their communities, providers require a full suite of tools that are mobile, intuitive and efficient.

With the latest industry obstacles, strategic providers are striving toward a one-stop-shop objective — searching for key functionalities from a single vendor.[3]

Meet the Yardi Senior Living Suite.

Yardi's single connected solution unites property management, finance, marketing, business intelligence and resident care on a single platform.

See real results.

"I'm a supporter of the Yardi Senior Living Suite. From a systems perspective, when you start going to different products and software and they don't talk to each other, it becomes difficult. For me it's about the user experience. If we have to tell our communities they have to go in 50 different systems to tackle 3 things, that slows them down."
